

BUSH'S BROTHER CALLED BY STATE

Exhibits His Docket to Show Fees Collected by Brother Sheriff Nick P. Bush.

ACCUMULATING EVIDENCE

Punch-Board Men Claim They Paid Turnkey Fees, Though Never Locked Up.

The Tuesday morning session of the Bush outer case was almost entirely taken up by the testimony of Squire Ben Bush, brother of the defendant, Sheriff Nick P. Bush. Squire Bush was the state's witness and he brought into court with him the docket of his justice court which was introduced as evidence and which showed the names of many of the witnesses who have testified regarding their arrests on charges of conducting punch boards. The witness was put through a rigid examination by W. B. Miller, of counsel for the defense, regarding the practices in his court and how fees were derived and collected.

The defense counsel seriously objected to this holding that the questions were not relevant and no reason could be seen for asking them.

However, the chancellor held that he himself did not see how they were material, but he would note the exceptions and let them be asked in order to determine how they were relevant and germane.

Squire Bush stated that whenever a defendant pleaded guilty in his court before he was allowed to pay out the jail was called and it was learned how much jail fees were due. He said that if the defendant was not taken to the jail he, of course, paid no jail fees, and if he was not guarded to the jail no guard fee was charged.

Squire Bush stated that when a man was arrested and committed to jail and remained over night a fee of $2.50 was charged, $1 for turning him in the jail and other $1 for turning him out and the 50 cents for two days' lodging and board as required by law. Before Squire Bush was called to the stand a number of well-known cigar men testified. The witnesses stated that they had been ordered to the jail in regard to running a punch board and after they made bonds they were released. They said they had never been locked up. It is charged that a jail fee of $2 was charged in each of these cases.

A number of business men, merchants, testified they had been arrested for receiving and concealing goods and had gone to the jail and made bond, but had never been locked up. The state charges that a $2 fee was charged in each of these cases.

Walter Spencer stated that he had been arrested for running a punch board and had gone to the office of Squire Parks and paid $11.50. How he claims the following morning officers came to his place and said too much money had been charged and gave him back the check, saying he wanted to see you tear it up in our presence. He was then asked for a check for $6.15, which he gave.

State Rests.

When court reconvened Tuesday afternoon the state rested its case and the defense began the taking of its evidence.

Tom Rogers, bookkeeper at the jail, was the first witness called.

Collection of Jail Fees. The charges against Sheriff Nick P. Bush in the proceedings seeking to oust him for the illegal collection of fees was taken up Thursday afternoon in the chancery court. Several witnesses who had been arrested, and who it was charged the sheriff had collected costs but had never been locked up, were called to the stand. Mrs.

J. E. W. Jamison, proprietress of the Guaranty Cleaning company, was called to the stand and testified that when she was notified she had been indicted by the grand jury on the charge of receiving stolen goods she went to the office of her attorney, S. J. McAllister, and he telephoned the jail and bond for his client was arranged in that manner. The report showed the sheriff had collected $2 jail fees when the defendant had the bond taken to the jail. T. Pope, Shepherd, counsel for the defense, said the amount was never collected.

Several other witnesses stated that they had been notified they were indicted by the grand jury on the charge of receiving and concealing stolen goods and they went to the jail, where they arranged bond. Some of them stated that they were taken back into the jail and registered and then released, while others stated they were taken merely in the jail office and never went back in the jail. In each of these cases the records showed that a $2 jail fee had been collected.

Punch Boards. Several well-known druggists and cigar men were called to the stand and testified regarding their arrest several months ago on the charge of running punch boards, a gambling device. They testified they were ordered to report to the jail and make bond, which they did. Several of them stated they were registered at the jail, but never locked up or ate a meal at the jail. In these cases the record showed the sheriff had collected $2 jail fees. During the trial in the afternoon T. Pope Shepherd stated to the court that it looked as if the state was trying to infer from their questions that these punch boards were allowed to be operated with the sheriff's knowledge. However, the chancellor said there was no charge in the bill of that character against the sheriff and he would take no cognizance of any such inferences.

WILL TELL OF HIS EXPERIENCE IN INDIA

B. H. McClain Scheduled to Deliver Address at Y. M. C. A. Tonight.

B. H. McClain, who has just returned from India under the international committee of the Young Men's Christian association, will speak at the annual dinner of the Foreign Workers' association at the local Y. M. C. A. on Tuesday night at 6:30 o'clock.

Bovla H. McClain, prior to going to India under the international committee of the Young Men's Christian association, was a student in Gearhart college, and had the usual student experiences at various association summer schools and conferences. He was general secretary at the University of Colorado and state student secretary of Washington.

Mr. McClain has spent nearly six years in the east in the service of the international committee of the Young Men's Christian association, a city of 1,250,000 population, the most important commercial, political and educational center in India, where the association has six branches ministering to the various groups of young men, Europeans, Anglo-Indians, Indian boys, Hindu students, Indian professional and business men and for the British and Indian troops stationed in the city; two years at Lucknow, the capital of the United Provinces, a city of 150,000 Hindus and 100,000 Mohammedans, the city of palaces and the stronghold of the Islam, famed in British history for the magnificence of the English magnates during the Indian mutiny, and more recently McClain has been with the British and Indian expeditionary force operating in Mesopotamia, where he rendered such important service during the critical periods of that campaign that the army commander made special mention of the work and the staff in official dispatches. Prior to staff in official dispatches. Prior to staff in work among the college students of the Pacific northwest as traveling secretary.

SURPRISE SPRUNG IN BUSH OUSTER

Attorneys File Petition Asking First Ouster Be Advanced in Supreme Court.

DEFENSE NOT PREPARED

Appeals to Chancellor for Relief but Case Has Passed Out of His Jurisdiction.

The counsel for the state in the first Bush outer case sprung a surprise on the defense Monday night when Coroner Jack O'Donnell served Sheriff Nick P. Bush with papers notifying him that the state's lawyers will appear before the supreme court now sitting at Jackson Thursday and file a petition to have that tribunal set aside the case for immediate trial. This case procedure was exercised by Atty.-Gen. Frank M. Thompson in the Crump outer case, which was tried at Nashville under similar proceedings.

The law states that procedure of this kind can be done in cases of this character, and when a good reason is given a case can be transferred from one grand district to another.

On account of being busy preparing the defense of the second outer suit, the sheriff's counsel has not had time to prepare for the trial of the case before the supreme court and have not as yet finished going over the transcript.

In the meantime the state went over the transcript, prepared their bill of exceptions, had them signed by the chancellor and forwarded to the clerk of the supreme court. Counsel for the sheriff appealed to Chancellor Garvin Tuesday morning for relief, but the chancellor said, of course, he has no jurisdiction over the first case now, as it had gone to a higher court.

The bill of exceptions which has been prepared contains alleged errors. It is claimed the chancellor made in his opinion in deciding the case. The first objection to the chancellor's ruling refers to the quantity of proof required of complainant in such a case—namely, that the proof does not, as the chancellor ruled in the case, have to be greatly preponderant, but only preponderant.

The second exception is to his ruling that "insolvency, however gross, is not, without more, a ground for ouster." The third objection is to the ruling of the court "in holding inferentially that complainant's failure to act earlier was a species of laches that would bar it of relief to which it might be otherwise entitled."

The fourth is that the evidence as a whole demanded a removal of the sheriff from office. The petition which will be filed before the supreme court at Jackson on Thursday is a lengthy one and sets out specifically the charges against Sheriff Bush and the evidence in support of the charges. The petition is entitled "A petition of complainant to advance cause for hearing immediately."

PROMINENT MEN ENLIST FOR FOREIGN "Y" WORK

Clark Bradford, W. E. Brock and D. A. Landress Consider Making Application.

The committee in charge of the enlistment for the Y. M. C. A. war work overseas is actively soliciting recruits for foreign "Y" work. While no names have as yet been made public by the committee, it is generally understood that several prominent citizens in Chattanooga have made application. It has been intimated that Clark Bradford, of the Chattanooga Medicine company, is seriously considering going. Mr. Bradford is an active member of the First Presbyterian church and has been a resident in this city for years.

He is especially known for his singing and has taken active interest in a song leader in the various churches in this vicinity. For this reason those in charge of the Y. M. C. A. campaign state that Mr. Bradford will be of great value to the association. He can lead the boys in khaki in song, he can also render his service as a leader of general gatherings as he is talented as a platform speaker. In fact there is no active member of the Y. M. C. A. in just the man that Mr. Bradford has been considering the matter seriously he has not as yet made up his mind to make application.

W. E. Brock Mentioned.

Another prominent citizen who has been approached on the subject, but refuses to give out any statement as to his position, is W. E. Brock, of the Brock Candy company. Mr. Brock has been active in everything connected with the war work that has been carried on in Chattanooga. He is at present general manager of the big Red Cross drive. He has worked hard as a member of the executive committee who made the largest number of sales during the third liberty loan campaign.

D. A. Landress, of Trotter Brothers, is another who has been added to the list. Mr. Landress says that while he has considered the matter and is greatly interested in the Y. M. C. A. war work at the front he is not as yet ready to say whether he is going to make application or not.

In addition to these names there are others who are going into the matter very deeply. Who are taking into consideration the breaking away from their families, as well as their business, and making the big sacrifice of going to the front. However, these three prominent business men, Mr. Bradford, Mr. Brock, and Mr. Landress, are three of the most prominent

May Sing in France

President's Daughter Eager to Cheer Boys 'Over There.'

Porter Oakes, escort to Miss Margaret Wilson and her party, states that Miss Wilson hopes to carry the training course. After doing for the soldiers over to France in the early fall. In fact, it was learned that it is Miss Wilson's heart's desire to go over there to sing to the boys there, as she does to those on American soil. She not only sings to them in the cantonments, but she talks to them afterwards, and it is said that she is doing a great deal to strengthen the morale of the soldiers.

There are government rules and regulations to be considered and other obstacles which may prevent Miss Wilson from going to France, but she hopes to meet them all successfully and embark in the early fall.

Chattanoogaans who have expressed interest in the matter. All of these men have a large number of friends here, and are rendering the city a great good in their activeness in war work.

All applicants will go direct to Washington and will be upon there after which those names who have already been turned in will be given out to the daily press.

These men who sign up will not sign up for service in this country but will be expected to go right to the front. Some, perhaps, will be sent to one of the association summer schools which is a four weeks' war training course. After this they will secure their passport from Washington and go forth on the seas.

It has been greatly emphasized by the committee in charge that the Y. M. C. A. is no place for "slackers." They state that it requires the very best of ability to keep the boys at the front, who are tired and discouraged, cheerful.

BARRIERS REMOVED FOR LOCAL NURSES

Several Erlanger Graduates to Immediately Volunteer for Red Cross Service.

As a result of the efforts of the local representatives who attended the American Nurses' association last week in Cleveland, the barriers which have stood in the way of local nurses are now eligible for Red Cross service. The differences between the Tennessee Nurses' association and the national organization were agreeably adjusted, and service in the Red Cross is concerned.

Miss Harriet Pearson, supervisor of Erlanger, expressed herself during the recent commencement exercises for trained nurses being conducted that the matter would be satisfactorily adjusted at the convention.

Members of the Chattanooga Nurses' association have been barred from the association and national membership on account of a personal difference between Mrs. Lena Warner, president of the Tennessee, and officials of these organizations.

The regulations as formerly existing were to the effect that only those nurses who claimed membership in the American Nurses' association through their state organization were eligible for service with the Red Cross. Therefore the Chattanooga nurses were barred because they could not attain this membership through their state organization and solely on account of personal feeling.

The matter was brought to the attention of Mrs. Jane Van De Vere, director of the National Red Cross, in her division, American Red Cross, who took it up with the national organization, with the result that hereafter any nurse who has completed two years' work in hospital nursing and thirty patients a day, and is otherwise eligible, may have her services accepted by the Red Cross.

Those attending the convention from here were Miss Harriet Pearson, supervisor of Erlanger hospital; Mrs. Free, supervisor of West-Elis; Miss Natalie Pewee, superintendent at Pine Bluff; Mrs. J. H. Hester and Miss Gertrude Holzman, of the public health staff in the Fort Oglethorpe zone.

Among the nurses who will volunteer as Red Cross nurses from Erlanger hospital are Miss Sarah Young, of the 1918 class, formerly of Sewanee; Miss Ruth Tisdale and Miss Maud Hine.

No one has been selected as yet to fill the place of Miss Winifred Whitney, formerly supervisor of nurses at Erlanger hospital, and for the present Miss Pearson will attend to it in addition to her own duties.

Colored People to Hold Patriotic Demonstration

There will be a patriotic meeting Tuesday evening of colored people at Heart Memorial M. E. church, at which an acceptable program will be rendered.

Addresses will be rendered by several white people. A select musical program will also be rendered. Rev. W. S. Height, superintendent of the Chattanooga district, will speak.

TWELVE MEN FROM CHICKAMAUGA GO TO FOURTH OFFICERS' TRAINING CAMP

Two Elected by Comrades, Others Appointed by Commanders. Men Picked From Sixth Division Represent Their Colleges.

Camp Forrest will send twelve candidates to the fourth officers' training camp. Of these, seven are from the Eleventh cavalry and are assigned to Camp Sevier, N. C. Three report from the Q. M. C. and may go to Camp Sevier. Two are appointees of the sixth division and oddity go to different training centers.

Orders for these men to report to their different schools have been received with the exception of the candidates of the Q. M. C.

The divisional training schools begin on May 15.

The appointees are selected by their company commanders and in a few instances by their colleges. In the case of the two men from the sixth division they were selected by their colleges.

The following is the roster: Eleventh Cavalry—Sergts. Russell E. Murphy, M. G. Tr.; Elmer E. Fitzer.

mess sergeant; Henry F. Stubbs, train E. and Privates Wright Collier, train E.; Louis R. Curran, private medical detachment; Clancy M. Jackson, medical detachment, and Sergt. Paul E. Lusk, ordnance sergeant, ordnance department.

All these men train in Camp Sevier. From the Q. M. C. at Lyle are appointed Sergts. W. P. Hickey, Ormon S. Johnson and Daniel J. Reed, the last two of Bakery Company No. 236. The training camp for these men has not been named, but will probably be Camp Sevier.

From the sixth division—Samuel A. Stewart, Jr., Inf., unassigned. He will proceed to Camp Taylor at Louisville, Ky., to represent Purdue university. Corp. James M. Taylor, 52nd Inf., goes to Guilford, Miss., to represent the University of Michigan.

"Sacrifice Sale" Thing Of Bustling, Busy Buyers

Any one who took a peep into the building at 621 Market at any hour Tuesday knows that the "sacrifice sale, staged by the Woman's Service league, is a success. Crowds filled the place at all hours and the patriotic women who were acting as sales ladies and wrapping clerks were on the quiver every moment.

The entire floor, extending from Market to Broad, is given over to counters and shelves on which the goods are displayed. In the center of the hall is the cashier's booth decorated in red, white and blue, where Mrs. J. P. Finlay presides as official money-changer and keeps account of the rapidly rising proceeds. Over $90 worth of goods was sold Monday before the doors were formally opened. Mrs. J. R. Huff is general chairman for the week. Mrs. J. M. Littleton, who was chairman for the day, was on the alert to see to the fixing of prices, seeing that the throng of customers were served.

Mrs. E. F. Thomas was in charge of the melting pot. Others assisting are Mrs. Garnett Andrews and Mrs. James M. Shaw, who have charge of the flower booth. Orders for cut flowers and potted plants will be taken by those in charge. Misses Louise Van Dyke and Rose Martin, gold drinks; Miss Louise Llewellyn, novelty booth; Mrs. Jo Conn Gould and Mrs. Clyde Willis are the milliners for the day. This is one of the most popular booths and over $20 was netted before 11 a. m. Another popular quarter is the children's booth and is in charge of Mrs. R. W. WHOLE SQUADRON ENEMY U-BOATS DISAPPEARED

New Type Submarine Declared Too Unwieldy—Near-Panic at Naval Bases.

(International News Service.) Zurich, May 14.—A whole squadron of German submarines of a new, large type failed to return after a cruise, according to information received today from a German source. The new type U-boats are said to be most unsatisfactory, being too unwieldy to maneuver rapidly. Other advisers said a near-panic prevails at Kiel and Wilhelmshaven (two of the main German naval bases) because the new British mine field in the North sea is hindering the movements of submarines. Consternation also reigns because both Ostend and Zeebrugge, the two German U-boat bases on the Belgian coast, are now bottled up, the advisers stated.

CAPT. THOMPSON NOW PARK QUARTERMASTER

Rapid Rise From Ranks to Commission and Place of Responsibility.

Capt. John F. Thompson relieved Maj. Martin H. Shute as quartermaster at Lyle by virtue of telegraphic appointment received Saturday from Washington.

Capt. Thompson was formerly in the property division before assuming command. This is not Capt. Thompson's first experience as Lyle quartermaster. He founded the whole Q. M. C. establishment at Lyle post, but was relieved automatically with the advent of Maj. A. L. Hump, who has just been transferred to Waco, Tex.

Capt. Thompson has enjoyed a rather brilliant rise in the military world. In February of last year he was a quartermaster sergeant at Fort Myer, Va. He took examination for a commission and was awarded a captaincy. Now he has command of the corps at Lyle, which supplies one of the biggest concentration camps in America.

Back of the swift advancement, however, is sixteen years of service in the cavalry and four years in the quartermaster corps.

In foreign service Capt. Thompson has spent two years in the Philippines and two years in Cuba and Porto Rico.

RECLAMATION DEPARTMENT STARTS ITS TAILOR SHOP

Telegraphic advices from Washington authorize the reclamation department of the quartermaster corps at Lyle to hire a foreman and a master tailor, paying each $7.50 a day. Six ordinary tailors at $20 per week have recently been employed from Chattanooga.

This department is temporarily under supervision of Sergt. William A. Follow. The entire department is under command of Capt. R. O. Arnold.

LABOR UNIONS SCORE GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANIES

Protest Against Slightest Rise in Price—Deplore Present "Bad Service."

At the meeting of the Chattanooga Trades and Labor council Monday night emphatic resolutions were adopted, condemning any advance in the price of either electric or gas rates. Members of the unions not only went on record as opposing any increase in charges, but took the occasion to score the present services rendered by these public service corporations. The electric company, the resolution declares, was able to show a profit last year in spite of a four months' strike. The recent discontinuance of car tickets and the rearrangement of the charge for current are pointed to as price increases.

Besides taking this stand, the unions endorsed the candidates for sheriff of both John Tinker and R. P. Bass. Members of the local chauffeur's union, who withdrew from the central body when Teddy McHold took his departure, again affiliated Monday night.

The saving of an electric light resolution follows: "Whereas, certain of the public utilities companies of this city have been preparing the people, through the news press, to believe that advertising and in other ways, for increases in their already exorbitant rates; and

"Whereas, the Chattanooga Gas company, according to information and general belief, is now realizing an enormous percentage of profit from the sale of its product, and complains and resists any attempt to force a reduction of its rates; and

"Whereas, recent published reports of the Chattanooga Railway and Light company show reasonable profits for the last year, despite a four-months' strike, which admittedly cost hundreds of thousands of dollars; and

"Whereas, only recently advanced street car fare 20 per cent, and more recently raised the price of electric current by a plan so camouflaged by technical phraseology that only an expert knows what the percentage of increase is; therefore, be it

"Resolved, by the Chattanooga Trades and Labor council, representing 6,000 citizens of Chattanooga and vicinity, that we use all legitimate means within our power to prevent this outrage being forced on to the city's overburdened people; that we commend the action of the city commissioners who have taken a stand against it, and that we call on the people to use all lawful means to compel these corporations to give the decent service for which the people are already paying and not getting; until such time as the people are ready to take them over and administer them for the benefit of all. Be it further

"Resolved, that copies of this resolution be furnished to the newspapers and the city commission, and spread on the minutes of this organization."
